AUDIOVISUAL COMMUNICATION DEGREE COMPETENCIES

BASIC COMPETENCIES

- CB1 - That students have demonstrated to possess and understand knowledge in an area of study that starts from the base of general secondary education, and is usually at a level that, although it is supported by advanced textbooks, also includes some aspects that involve knowledge from the forefront of their field of study.
- CB2 - That students know how to apply their knowledge to their work or vocation in a professional manner and possess the competencies that are usually demonstrated through the development and defense of arguments and problem solving within their field of study.
- CB3 - That students have the ability to gather and interpret relevant data (usually within their area of study) to make judgments that include reflection on relevant social, scientific or ethical issues.
- CB4 - That students can transmit information, ideas, problems and solutions to both specialized and non-specialized audiences.
- CB5 - That students have developed those learning skills necessary to undertake further studies with a high degree of autonomy.

GENERAL COMPETENCES

- CG1 - To foster critical, analytical and reflective capacity in relation to the audiovisual fact, with a technical and aesthetic knowledge of the forms, processes and trends of visual communication in our environment.
- CG2 - To acquire a basic and general knowledge of the main events and messages that make up the current panorama of audiovisual media, iconic and acoustic representations and their evolution. The spatial dimension of this knowledge is fundamental insofar as it contributes to develop the disciplinary diversity and the variety of functions of audiovisual communication in contemporary societies.
- CG3 - To provide an exhaustive knowledge of the techniques and processes of audiovisual creation and diffusion in its various phases, as well as the interrelationships between the subjects of audiovisual communication: authors, institutions, companies, media, supports and receivers. This training will enable them to make creative and professional decisions in the field of communication and the management of technological and human resources in the companies of the sector.
- CG4 - To acquire the necessary skills to express themselves clearly and coherently in their own language, as well as to have knowledge of other languages, particularly English, to communicate in their professional practice.
- CG5 - Acquire the necessary skills to work in companies associated with the audiovisual industry and in organizations that demand communication services, plans and strategies.

TRANSVERSAL COMPETENCES

- CT5 - To have the ability to generate a solidary conscience: ability to generate forms of behavior that go through the solidary respect for the different people and peoples of the planet, equal opportunities and universal accessibility of people with disabilities, the values of a culture of peace, democratic principles and respect for human rights.
- CT7 - To have the ability to adequately present the results of work and research, orally or with the help of media according to the canons of communication disciplines.
- CT11 - To have the ability to work in a team and to communicate one's own ideas, as well as the ability to integrate into a common project aimed at obtaining results.
- CT15 - Have the ability to establish order and method: ability to organize and time tasks, taking priority decisions in the different processes and communication strategies.
- CT16 - Have the ability to transmit information, ideas, problems and solutions to both specialized and non-specialized audiences.

SPECIFIC COMPETENCES

- CE8 - To have the ability to write texts, scripts or scripts fluently.
- CE10 - Have the ability to identify the processes and techniques involved in the direction and management of audiovisual companies.

CE19 - To have the ability to plan communication strategies to serve the interests of companies, institutions and the media.

CE27 - Know, identify and apply resources, elements, methods and procedures of the processes of construction and analysis of both linear and non-linear audiovisual stories, including the design, establishment and development of strategies, as well as the applications of persuasive communication policies in audiovisual markets.

CE29 - To know the spatial image and iconic representations in space, both in still and audiovisual images, as well as the constituent elements of art direction. This knowledge also covers the relationship between images and sounds from the aesthetic and narrative point of view in the different audiovisual media and technologies. It also includes knowledge of psychological models specifically developed for visual communication and persuasion through the image.

CE32 - To have the ability to gather and interpret relevant data within the area of study of audiovisual communication, in order to make judgments that include a reflection on relevant social, scientific or ethical issues.

Course Outline

The course deals with the commercial communication that organizations can carry out, mainly, what it is and how advertising is developed. On the other hand, we will know the parameters that govern the behavior of the receiver and the consumer of the messages to whom the commercial communication campaigns are directed. We will learn who is involved in the decision and implementation of a commercial communication campaign: agencies, advertisers and media. Finally, we will carry out a commercial communication campaign and we will learn how to organize the tasks for such campaign in order to achieve the objectives set.

Assessment systems
The student will be able to choose at the beginning of the course if he/she wishes to be evaluated continuously or at the end with a global assesment. Therefore, he/she will be able to choose the type of evaluation he/she wishes, but will not be able to modify it during the duration of the course and will never be able to express his/her interest in the final evaluation after the work groups for practices have been established. ONGOING ASSESMENT <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Theoretical part 40% of the final grade: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> -Theory-exam 40%. 2. Practical part 60% of the final grade: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Theoretical-Practical part 20% (must exceed 50% to be added to the rest of the grades). Final work. 40% (must be passed at 50% to pass the course). These activities are not recoverable in Jun and July either. It is necessary to pass the theoretical part in order to be able to grade the practical part. If a student passes the practical part and fails the theoretical part, the grade of the practical part is kept for the July exam of the same course.

Theoretical part-exam (40%): A final exam that must be passed with at least 50% correct. The exam will be a multiple-choice test and its maximum grade will be a 4.

Theoretical-Practical Part (20%).

This part is compulsory and must be passed at least 50% in order to be added to the rest of the grades.

In this part the student will work in group and the presentation and execution of the 2 proposed practices will be valued with a maximum of 1 point each, over the grade obtained in the exam, as long as the exam has been passed.

The dedication of the student to these practices is described above. The dedication of the teacher to their elaboration and evaluation is of 10 hours.

Practical part (40%). This part is compulsory and must be passed independently of the previous practical part, at least 50%, in order to be added to the rest of the grades (this work must be passed with at least 2 points in order to pass the course). This activity is not recoverable in Jun but it is possible in July.

Group work:

The course work will be evaluated by the oral presentation of the work and the written delivery of a report. The coherence and development of the strategy developed to solve the communication problem will be taken into account. The maximum score will be 4 points.

The student's dedication to this practice is described above. The teacher's dedication to its elaboration and evaluation is 20 hours.

GLOBAL ASSESMENT

There will be an alternative final test of global character, so that the overcoming of this one supposes the overcoming of the subject.

This final test consists in that the student will be able to work the subject individually and will have the possibility of delivering all the practices on the day of the final exam.

On the day of the exam, the student will present his work orally to the teacher and will hand in a written report of each of the works developed alone.

If this form of evaluation is chosen, it must be communicated at the beginning of the course and the teacher will indicate how to proceed.

The evaluation criteria for this modality are the same as for the continuous evaluation modality and are explained above.
